Defect: The toy features sand enclosed within a soft silicone outer layer. Testing has identified that the sand used in these ORB toys contains naturally occurring asbestos. The sand is fully sealed within the silicone casing and therefore is not accessible during normal play. Testing of the outside silicone casing did not detect asbestos.

Hazard: Asbestos is a material that can be harmful to health if its fibres are inhaled. A risk could occur only if the toy is damaged, for example, if it is cut, torn, or broken open. If the outer silicone layer stays intact, there would be no exposure, since the sand remains sealed inside the casing.

What to do:

- Stop using the product and keep it away from children. Do not attempt to open the silicone casing.
- Double bag the toy in any bag (clear if possible) that can be effectively sealed, e.g. zip lock bags.
- Return the toy to any Paper Plus store for a full refund.

If the toy is damaged:

- Immediately stop using it. Double bag it and seal the bag securely.
- Contact Paper Plus Customer Service on 0800 727 377 for further assistance.
- Please do not bring the product to a Paper Plus store.
- If you have any health concerns, you can call Healthline (free at any time) on 0800 611 116 or go to the Ministry of Health website: www.healthnz.govt.nz
